MARY L. SAWYER

Teacher of History

TECHNICAL HIGH SCHOOL

1900-1929

ONE can never adequately tell how much "Tech" owes to MARY L. SAWYER. No one can frame a fitting tribute to this teacher for her loyalty to this school and for her ever-increasing devotion to the task of training hundreds of boys and girls over a period of nearly thirty years. The intimate faculty conferences—the intricate contacts in the classroom discussions are hidden away in minds of tender and affectionate memory. The great family of "Tech" which she chided and allured, rewarded and mothered, alone will do justice to her memory. Through the years the seeds of justice and judgment, logic and womanliness will live and grow where she has planted them.

This will be her greatest memorial.

This is all she would ask.

Class Saint .....	KELSEY ROBBINS

Class Will of 1928 ½

WE, THE CLASS OF '28 ½, in the year of our Lord one thousand, nine hundred and twenty-nine, being in full and complete possession of our faculties of mind and body, yet, considering the uncertainty of this life and the propinquity of the next, do hereby declare, asseverate and proclaim this document to be our last will and testament.

1. We appoint as our legal executors Miss Mabel B. Lutes, Mr. M. Edmond Maynard, and Mr. Raymond E. Mackenzie.

2. We do direct that all our justly contracted debts be paid as soon after our decease as may prove necessary.

3. The members of the class leave to future generations the tattered blueprints of the proposed new addition to Tech, that they may enjoy the full benefits of the swimming pool, scenic stage, etc., as much as we have.

4. President Kaplinger leaves his much-prized bronze medal won at the Stafford Springs Fair for having the prettiest dimples to Don Pepin.

5. Leonard Shapiro after due consideration leaves the principalship of Tech High School to Mr. Marsh.

6. Betty Tute leaves her abilities as an actress both on and off the stage along with her best wishes to Lois Fisher.

7. Beauregard leaves his quiet determination to be seen and not heard to Harold Chisholm.

9. The Class leaves the remains of room 23 to Miss Weaver and the 2A class.

10. Robert Rudy leaves his beauty, wit and charm, as well as his conceit to Richard Empsall.

11. Leo Kaplan leaves his "new ballot" to his grandchildren to be used when they come to Tech.

12. Red Proctor, the famous world trotter, leaves his own book of travels "The Travels of a Donkey" to the school library.

13. Our cutest boy, in fact, THE cutest boy, Jack Shea himself, leaves his charming bashfulness, his unassuming manners, and his overwhelming popularity to Gordon Gardiner in the hope that the latter may add to his already glittering personality.

17. Russell Phelon leaves his love of the unconventional to Dr. Cockayne and his "Harvard haircut" to Mr. Cook.

18. Katherine Kavanaugh leaves her bashfulness to Freida Fine.

19. To Harry Harwood, Kelsey Robbins, whose chief concern these three years have been in the uplifting of his fellow classmates to the same high level of character which he maintains, leaves his ability as a preacher.

(Signed) CLASS OF '28 ½

Sworn to before us, the legal advisers of the Class of '28 ½, and set with the seal of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, this seventeenth day of January in the year of our Lord, one thousand, nine hundred and twenty-nine.

KENNETH's friends and even those who see him only once in a while know what a fine, manly fellow he is. He came to Tech ambitious to get all that he could in the way of education and willing to give all that he had for the school. He joined the dramatic club, the orchestra and the banjo club. He became a member of the Pro Merito society due to high standing in his studies. He served his class well as secretary and later as treasurer. He was a member of the traffic squad for two years. During his senior year he served on many committees. Kenneth was always conscientious, dependable, and willing to do more than his share. Tech always will remember him for his achievements and his fine influence on the school.

Marjorie had the true Tech spirit. She was a member of the glee club for three years and of the Athenaeum for two. In the latter she served as secretary and later as vice-president. She was also a member of the senior Pro Merito society which she served as secretary. Whatever she did she did in the best way possible and with her whole heart in the undertaking. Marjorie will always be loved and remembered by Tech for her sweetness of disposition, her winning smile, and her fine personality.

Class Will of 1929

WE, THE CLASS OF 1929, of the Technical High School, Springfield, Massachusetts, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine, being of sound and capable mind, do record this, our last will and testament.

1. We do appoint Mr. Morgan, Miss Swenson, and Mr. Hesselton as our trustees and executors, who will see that it is properly executed.

2. The class bequeathes its cooperative spirit and ability to have good times together to all our succeeding classes of the Technical High School.

4. In order that succeeding generations at Tech will not catch cold while having their pictures taken, we leave .004 cents to start a fund for the heating of the front steps.

5. The class leaves its ability to make money on dances to the 12B class. We are sure this will be appreciated.

6. "Buddy" McCleary leaves her contagious good humor to all pessimists.

7. The class twins, "Goodie" Gardner, and "Barney" Heyman bequeath their mutual regard to any like pair in the 12B class.

8. To the overworked janitors of this thriving institution of learning, we leave rooms 27, 28, and 29 to clean up.

9. Muriel Lothrop leaves her ability to be on the honor roll to Carol Winchell.

11. "Stretch" Griffing leaves his tall stature to "Shorty" Sprague.

12. "Red" Empsall, our sleepest boy, bequeathes his power to blush at any time to any freshman girl who desires said power.

13. To "Bob" Thomas, "Dot" Humphrey leaves her power over the opposite sex.

17. To Lillian Winchell, George Mitchell leaves his self-esteem.

18. Tom Cavanaugh leaves the secret of his marcel to all desirous girls. Line forms on the right, please.

19. To all luckless underclassmen, and there are many of them, Bill Bushey bequeathes his ability to pull in at just 8.29.

20. Art Yelle wills his ability to pursue and conquer homework to all students who need such a trait.

21. Carl Wiese bequeathes his stock of wise-cracks, etc., to Bob Pease.

22. Ruthie Little wills her power to talk indefinitely about nothing to Henrietta Rowland.

23. Francis Carlson and Francis Gilhooly leave Nathan Bradley to some other set of hands to be educated in the cruel, outside world.

24. Ethel Hartenstein wills her sweet disposition to Agnes Rawston.

25. "Arny" Lindgren, our treasurer, leaves his power to get money from financially embarrassed seniors to all successors in the years to come.

26. To Edith Kilcourse, Roger Vaughan wills his freckles.

27. "Russ" Day leaves his parking place in the school yard to the one who gets it first.

28. John Loomis leaves the secret of his school girl complexion to all admiring underclass girls.

29. To all present and future students of Tech, we leave the only evidence of our new building: the age-old blueprints.

In witness, whereof, we sign this document as our last will and testament.

CLASS OF 1929.

Class Prophecy of 1929

THE SCENE is laid in the main office of the Cavanaugh and Martin airplane manufacturers, in New York City. It is June, 1949. The members of the firm with their secretaries, Freida Fine and Eugenie Borysewicz have just returned from a tour around the world inspecting their various plants.

The scene opens with Mr. C. Martin, seated at his desk. He rings for his secretary and asks for one of the early contracts for the Sidorsky model. She looks for it in an old desk. As she opens it and starts looking through it she comes upon a copy of the Tech Tiger. She hesitates and C. Martin speaks politely but irritably. He asks her if she has found it. As she draws out the document she also takes out the Tiger slowly. As soon as C. Martin sees the Tiger, he almost pounces on it.

Com. Martin . . . Just imagine twenty years ago at this time we were busy with plans for graduation, prom, and banquet. If anyone had told me that I would be a millionaire in twenty years I would have thought that he was crazy and out loud too.

Freida . . . Yes, that's nearly true. But isn't it wonderful how our class has prospered. Dear old Don Pepin has been made designer of costumes and stage scenery for the Metropolitan Opera Company.

Com. . . . How wonderful! But I heard that Muriel Lothrop is married to Roy Drake and they are living in Paris where Roy is attached to the American Legation. I always knew that Roy would get attached to something high like that (In the midst of this conversation Tom Cavanaugh, the president of the firm comes in nonchantly dressed very modishly, however. He sits down at his desk to open his mail. He is greeted casually by Freida and Commerford who are very much absorbed in the Tiger. Suddenly, with a letter in his hand he gets up and starts to show it to Commerford, but noticing the Tiger he gives one Yelle of surprise. While they are talking, Eugenie comes running in with more mail).

Tom. . . . Look at Arnold Lindgren! He certainly is some lucky man, Secretary of the U. S. treasury. He will see all the money that he wants for a while.

Eugenie . . . Peg Nelson has just presented three beautiful studies of the new building with its cafeteria, new organ, and fine new school rooms in remembrance of our class. Don't you remember she started something like that before we left.

Commerford . . . I went to Red Empsall's night club last night. It is called "Flaming Youth." Russ Day electrifies for him. He has three old, but not too old hostesses from 1929. Helen Westerberg, Maybelle Smith, and Grace Ruhm.

Freida . . . You will never guess what Buddy McCleary is doing. She is—shall I tell, well, she is an aesthetic dancer and teaches in—in—er Chicopee.

Tom. . . . I met young Dick Howes today. You know his mother was Ruthie Little. They live in Australia now where Dick senior is a famous engineer. Our little Ethel Hartenstein has published another volume of "Why I left Tech". It will undoubtedly be a famous treatise in time and perhaps in short time.

Freida . . . Ernie Griffith is still running. He is running for Mayor of Newburyport now. He'll be running for his life soon if precedent has anything to say.

Tom . . . I can tell you something better than that. Ed. Galivan is fire chief on Mount Vesuvius.

Eugenie . . . Tom, Sherwood Griffing was here to see you today. He is an inch taller than when he went to Tech and is still going up for the higher things you know.

Commerford . . . Harry Harwood, our former toastmaster has just edited a new joke book called "Among my Souvenirs".

Freida . . . I met Chet Olson this morning on 5th avenue and he offered to give me a part in his new production "Tech Harmonies". I was thrilled, but I guess I can't. I can't act well enough. Chet owns a large circuit. It is just grand to be on the stage. Bill Oliver is a comedian in one of his shows.

Tom . . . John Spence has done himself proud. He is principal at Tech now and has been for three years. "Les Inseparables!"

Eugenie . . . I have got the best news ever. Dot, yes, Dot Humprey was married last Thursday in Hollywood to Wes. Hayden. They waited long enough, but love finds a way. M-m-m-m.

Commerford . . . I had a great time last night at Red's dance hall. I met Dr. Betty Aiken, Dean of Mt. Holyoke college. Dr. Clifford Pease, Dean of M. A. C. was there, too, and—and His Honor the Governor of Massachusetts, Donald McQuillan. Just imagine what a fine example they set for the young generation. By the way, Eugenie did you see the new shop on Broadway near Olson's with the big sign? "Faces lifted painlessly and quickly". Well, that is the new Venus Roche, Mullett beauty parlor. You want to try it for your imperfections.

Freida . . . Everett Trombly, the announcer at station T. E. C. H. has scheduled a series of talks by the famous senator and orator, Roger Sylvester. I think that he is going to talk on why we are what we are when we are what we are.

Tom . . . Do you remember Roger Vaughn? He has just accepted the position as coach for the Yale crew. He is teaching them how it should be done now.

Commerford . . . They call Jack Winans the man of the thousand orchestras and the king of melody. I went to his palace last night and thought I was in heaven. Oui it was vunderfool. His orchestra iss chust the best I ever heard excepting none.

Freida . . . I cannot believe it, but I was passing near Chet's theater today and I saw a little second-hand clothes store right next door. Over head it read "Lincoln's". I know one thing and that is that I never expected to see Al as a second hand clothes dealer. I thought that he was the last word in style. John Loomis is working, too. He is blowing up gas balloons, a new kind too, for the government.

Tom . . . I was looking over a special order that came in this morning from Karl Bauch who has organized a research expedition to the antarctic where they will study the life and the ways of those poor fellows who were marooned down there for so long. They forgot themselves. They say that James Bowman and Frankie Burr were lost on that same expedition. Wouldn't it be funny but perhaps tragic to see them brought back in a cage? Earl Ritchie has just invented a new gun which they will use if necessary. I think that it is electric.

Eugenie . . . We surely started everyone up in the air. Warren Bryant is an air pilot. Francis Carlson has also been inspired to do the higher things. He is up on the Statue of Liberty scratching off the years of accumulation of "Terra Firma". Oliver Lawson is an excellent engineer. He specializes in hot air.

Freida . . . Bobbie Downer and Dot Gates are said to be, no, they are the successors to Poiret the famous French designer. The elevator boy tells me that there is a rumor that George Mitchell is still wandering about the Tech buildings robbing the cradle.

Tom. . . . Wait until you hear some news that I heard Sunday when I spent the week end at John Urquhart's palatial mansion on Long Island. His wife just came back from a world tour and while at Bombay, India, she ran into Carl Wiese who is the rebel leader down there against the English. He told her plenty and she did not leave out much in telling me about it.

Eugenie . . . Driving down in my roadster through Times Square I saw Nathan Bradley on duty there. He is the only fellow who has followed up his high school career.

Freida . . . What's Bill Lawler doing? I haven't seen him since he graduated. Do you know where he is?

Eugenie . . . Do you mean to say that you don't know what Bill is doing? Why I thought that everyone knew that. He is the most notorious bachelor in the city of New York. The latest that I heard is that he is running a very exclusive shop and runs about the city looking for beautiful girls to work for him. Don't be surprised. Bill crawled out of his shell when he took a girl home after the play, "The Admirable Crichton". If that created a sensation, what would his present status create? Mutiny perhaps.

Tom. . . . Say this isn't getting our work done. Where is that letter that I had a minute ago? Ah, here it is. Wow! Let's step. It is an order for twenty planes from John Mysterly to be sent to Africa to bring back those nuts that they found there. Here Freida take this to the factory manager quick and—(but she is gone). (As the curtain goes down Eugenie is heard saying, "Bill Lawler running an exclusive shop—taking girls out—ooee.") Then Tom breaks in with "Somewhere the sun is shining" and the curtain goes down on the class of 1929.

Class History of 1929

SEPTEMBER 6, 1926, was the greatest day in Tech's history. Two hundred and fifty green and unsophisticated freshmen from the many Junior High Schools were ushered into their first day of high school life. This class was known as 1929.

The class was inactive as a whole during the first half year, but in the second semester was recognized and organized with Miss Swenson and Mr. Morgan as faculty advisers. Mr. Hesselton was the class auditor.

At the first meeting a nominating committee was chosen to select candidates for the class officers. This committee was composed of: Muriel Lothrop, Dorothy Spencer, Robert Bigelow, Alan Lincoln, and John Spence. The Constitutional committee chosen was: Dorothy Gates, Frank Feeney, and Oliver Lawson.

In June 13, 1927, the nominating committee presented several names for the different offices. From these the following were chosen: President, Ernest Griffith; Vice-President, Doris Humprey; Treasurer, Arnold Lindgren; Secretary, Margaret Nelson; Member-at-Large, Robert Bigelow; Girls' Athletic Manager, Ethel Hartenstein; Boys' Athletic Manager, John Spence. Thus ended our first year at Tech High.

As we entered our Junior year, the "high and mighty seniors" began to realize that we were at Tech. At our first meeting we discussed the problem of class colors and a committee was chosen to pick out a few colors suitable to the tastes of the class. We also had a nominating committee for the new officers. At the next meeting we chose for our class colors, Blue and Gold, symbolizing loyalty. Our Junior year was marked as a year of social triumphs. We held our first dance, the Junior Prom. It was a huge success.

Lo and behold, the freshies became seniors; that never to be forgotten date. This was not only a happy time but a time full of anxiety resulting from '29. The officers for the senior years were: President, Don Pepin; Vice-President, Muriel Lothrop; Secretary, Margaret Nelson; Treasurer, Arnold Lindgren; Boys' Athletic Manager, Byron Rich; Girls' Athletic Manager, Ethel Hartenstein. It was at this time that the banner, a most beautiful piece of art was posted in room twenty-eight. A dance with Godie Gardner as chairman was given and $50.75 was made one of the records at "Tech". Although there was happiness in this class, it was saddened by the news of the death of Fuller Goodwin. Resolutions were sent to his parents as an acknowledgment of our sympathy.

Troubles, troubles, some of the seniors were nearly gray trying to find a way to finance the Tech Tiger. Each suggestion bumped into a stone wall until one bright morning—and it was bright—a way was found, and soon the seniors with the gray hairs were returned to normal. Troubles in the form of lack of money to pay class dues started us all on the downward path again and some seniors must be pretty far down by this time. Arm bands and rings were given out but not without a groan, a sigh, and a lot of scimping because a bill was given each senior large enough to sink a ship. The great day arrived when committees for the senior events were selected and set to work under the guidance of a chairman who had troubles all his own. Another dance was given with Ethel Hartenstein as chairman, which proved that dances were our specialty. We certainly had some thinking to do when the statistics charts were sent out. The editor says that we had nothing to do side of his job. Maybe. The ballot made us think a lot too, and with all that work the seniors were left until May 24th to find out who was who.

As we had a few pennies left in our pockets we were very politely told that the class would be assessed an additional $50 for the year book. Each day a certain few would come to school in their Sunday Best and we all stood back and wondered until we were informed that they were posing that afternoon for their pictures and thus we found out what everyone looked like on Sunday.

Finally the really big day came and we very timidly walked down the long aisle and were handed the big award.

Wither we are all going we know not, but we hope that all Techites in the future enjoy Tech as we have in the past.

THE CHARLES F. WARNER Achievement Medals which are presented each semester to the outstanding boy and girl in the graduating class are a perpetual memorial to the founder of this school.

The committee for 1929 made up of alumni, faculty and students selected for this special honor Donald Pepin and Freida Fine.

Donald Pepin was president of his class in his senior year. He was a member of the Hi-Y, Tau Delta Sigma, Forum, and the Leaders' Club. Much of the success of the past year's plays was due to Donald's able management of the stage.

Freida Fine distinguished herself as editor of the Tech News for the past semester in keeping up the traditions of the school paper. Freida was always willing to do anything for the school and her class.

It is both fitting and proper that these two fine young people should receive Tech's highest award.

Tau Delta Sigma

The Tau Delta Sigma is, perhaps, Tech's liveliest club. Meetings are held every Monday for tryouts, for membership and for parts for plays. The other meetings are taken up by short plays and entertainments given by the members. Among the many good times of the year are the theatre party, picnic and alumni party. Of course, the crowning event of the semester is the play, which is put on with the cooperation of the stage design class and the stage crew.

The Youngest

ALL THOSE who have been at Tech for any great length of time know what Mr. Smith plus a cast can do in the way of entertainment. The Youngest was something new. It was modern and we had never before attempted anything quite like it. We did not know how it was coming out, but we felt that it would be popular. Sometimes we had hard work to be serious; you have to be; you can't laugh. We got down to real business about the last week. A good share of the credit goes to Mr. Smith for the play. We couldn't have done a thing without him.

We had a wonderful time the first few weeks of rehearsals. We would go in and sit down in the assembly hall like nice little children or break our necks climbing the new contraption which Don invented, like bad little children. We always had to wait for Jack and Betty, or Richard and Nancy to be theatrical. I don't know whether they went out to tea or rehearsed their big scene where we couldn't see them. Jack was kind of bashful—but—they'd come running in about 3.00 o'clock wanting to know if we were all ready. Mind you, they wanted to know if we were ready, and we'd been waiting about an hour. Ah-h-h-h!

We did a lot of laughing over our own lines; we got called for it, too, but it was fun while it lasted. That is not saying anything about how Mr. Smith felt. I always enjoyed that scene where—Oh! I mustn't tell that scene because I want to remain unidentified. I will have to be more careful after this. I always enjoyed that scene where Muff tells Mark to go and, er, cut hay. He has such a funny expression on his face. Speaking of faces—Alan had to get away from himself a lot when he put his hands in his vest and strutted around like a turkey cock. He is extremely modest and unassuming off stage.

I remember the night of the dress rehearsal. We found it extremely difficult to change our dress suits, not having had much practice, and to do it in the allotted time. The consequence was that we did not arrive when we should and so those on the stage had to make up lines and how they made them up. I guess it lasted about ten minutes. That was long enough. Those ten minutes were more fun than the whole of the play. You can't imagine the freedom and the at-homeness you feel when you are improvising. I think that Mr. Smith fully enjoyed it, too.

Well, on the opening night we had plenty of valets and hand-maids. It would have been fun to have improvised again, but we dared not risk it.

Were you ever in a play? You know when you are waiting for the first curtain on the opening night and you've nothing to do, boy, your heart is beating. Br-r-r-r. The hardest thing to do is to be natural on the stage in spite of everything.

The cast of the Youngest has sort of stuck together. We had a "seranada" a party just lately and lots of good times. We got to know each other so well that we just couldn't part. We may get together again some time. Who knows?

Just glance over on the opposite page. We are all there. Our lawyer and his little wife at the bottom. Then there is Muff up at the top right and Oliver and the maid. Dear Oliver! There is mother almost in a faint over Richard and Markie, but what's he doing? Then we are all together in the middle. Here's hoping we meet again.

The Admirable Crichton

EARLY in the year the dramatic club selected a cast for the play. Under Mr. Smith's able direction rehearsals were started in February. The first rehearsals were rather peculiar. We did not know each other; hence, we did not work together. Soon, however, we became better acquainted and began to get better results. Lois and Henry in the lead got off to a good start and were soon showing the rest of us up. The many servants in the first act caused quite a bit of fun at first. We were always getting in each other's way.

Finally, we were through the first act. In the second act we were extremely startled the first day to hear Lois scream. (You know how she can?) We got used to that, however, and then other things began to amuse us; that is, some of us. Mr. Smith began to bawl us out by turns when we fooled, but we didn't mind that because we knew that we deserved it.

In the third act most of us took a long rest while Henry and Lois struggled, you notice that I say "struggled," through their big scene. We were not a little bit surprised to see the amount of coaching that Henry needed in this scene.

We started the fourth act and just then Mr. Smith made a change in the cast. Vera Gilpin was changed from "Catherine" to "Lady Bocklehurst". Bobbie Chapman started in the last week to do "Catherine". She developed the part excellently in the short time that she had.

The dress rehearsal provided many laughs as usual. The grass hut in the second act caved in, almost on us, just as Ernest yelled "The grass is moving,—it's coming", meaning the tiger.

"Ernest" afforded much amusement the first night by running on too soon. Lois saw him coming and "straight-armed" him off again before he was seen. If he had been seen it might not have been so funny, but he wasn't so he got the merry ha, ha, ha.

Uncle got his lines mixed and solemnly declared, "I was washed, my dears' clinging to a hen coop." No one noticed this either, so that was all right. We all did things like this sooner or later, but it came out all right in the end and we all felt satisfied.

I should like to thank Mr. Smith publicly for all the work he put into the play and for all the fooling he stood for. He certainly was "the power behind the throne" in that play as in all others that the club has put on.

Of course I can't thank him publicly, if he doesn't know who I am. All he has to do is to ask the editor of this book, and he'll tell him. Maybe after all I had better sign this article so that no one else will be incriminated. But we had a lot of fun in the play. So there you are.

ERNEST

Senior Pro Merito

All set for high marks! Here's where we shine! Members of this club are those from the 12B and 12A classes who have attained an average of 85% or above in all subjects. It is a branch of the Massachusetts Pro Merito Society. Among their special privileges, they are allowed a full set of school text-books for home use. A junior society was recently organized with the same standards.

Junior Pro Merito

The Junior Pro Merito is the younger brother of the Pro Merito. Its standards are the same as the Pro Merito's. The members of the Junior Pro Merito are chosen from the 10B, 10A, 11B, 11A classes. An average of 85% in all subjects is required to become a member of this body of high grade students. The members of the Junior Pro Merito have responsible positions in their classes usually. They are the real students of the school.

The Forum

The Forum is the boys' honor English society. Membership is open to all boys between the 10A and 12B class who have an average of B in English. Many of the leading students of the school belong to this organization; among them are the presidents of both senior classes, and some of the dramatic stars.

The Athenaeum

The Athenaeum is Tech's Honorary English Club for girls and has as its purpose the promotion of interest in literature. All Junior and Senior girls who have maintained an average of 80% are eligible. The club meets twice a month at the different homes with Miss Greenwood as the adviser. During the first semester the club reads plays; the second semester it studies poetry.

Traffic Squad

Hold that line! ! This is not a football game, but the lunch lines of the first and second recesses. Thus the Traffic Squad functions. If any poor Freshman gets lost in the maze of passages, an orange-banded husky is there to set him straight. "Ham" Morgan lays down the law to them, too. Boys and girls are picked for certain kinds of police work. The Tech Traffic Squad was one of the first in New England, and plays an important part in the life of the school.

Le Salon

Le Salon is Tech's French Club. While the aim of the club is to increase interest in the French language, France and the French people, it has a very pleasant social side. At the meetings members of the club give short talks or show pictures of France. They have very enjoyable times discussing French customs and comparing them with those of America. The membership of the club is limited to thirty-five pupils who are especially interested in this subject.

The Nisimaha

The Nisimaha Club is a branch of the National Organization of Girl Reserves formed by members from each of the three high schools. Meetings are held every Wednesday afternoon at the Y. W. C. A.; the first Wednesday in the month is a supper meeting. "Nisimaha" is an Indian word meaning "Comrade". The purpose of the club is to promote honest scholarship, wholesome recreation, clean thinking, service to others, a spirit of friendship, and to uphold Christian standards.

The Band

And now let the band play! These fellows get plenty of exercise, as any member will testify. Instruments are loaned by the school, practice given on school time, the school instructor, Mr. Allen, teaches any pupil, and credits are given for the work. What more could one ask? They also get free admission to all football games.

Model Airplane Club

Tech's baby club was started in March, 1928; it has been progressing very rapidly, both in knowledge and members. Many of these members have won some worthwhile prizes with their models. The club meets weekly to fly their models and to talk over plans for building new ones. This club combined with the Tech Aeronautical Class is working to get a regular aeronautical course started in this school.

The Hi-Y

Hi-Y is a club that attracts all the boys of Tech. It is connected with the Y. M. C. A. and has been granted the privilege of using the Y. M. C. A. for its meetings. To create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community, high standards of Christian character is its purpose; "Clean Living, Clean Scholarship, Clean Speech, Clean Sports," its slogan.

The Torch Club

Tech Torch Club is, as its name implies, an organization to keep the flame of brotherhood alive. It teaches principles of cleanliness, service, and achievement. It is the younger brother of the Hi-Y, its members being taken from the 10B, 10A, and 11B classes. Its meetings are held at the Y. M. C. A., together with the Torch Clubs of Central, Commerce, and Vocational.

Football

High were the hopes of the coaches in the fall of 1928 when over 100 candidates turned out for the football team from whom the squad below was picked.

This was not a championship year for Tech but exceptional playing was shown by Heim, Cavanaugh, Tracy, and Empsall. "Tony" Heim's grit in playing with a broken shoulder in the Commerce game was one of the high spots of the season. Empsall, tackle; and Tracy, end; placed on the first, Heim, fullback; and Spence, guard; placed on the Union-Republican all-city teams.

Basketball

Under the able coaching of "Bob" Stout and the cool leadership of Capt. "Bill" Lawler, the Tech basketball team scored its way to the interschool championship for 1928-1929. In the deciding game with Commerce, the team supported its captain nobly and the result was a 27-25 score. This game typifies the spirit, the team-work, and the hard play which the fellows put into the game. Their success is all the greater because the captain was the only seasoned player at the beginning of the season. The boys did not slacken after winning the championship but worked up to a greater climax by beating Agawam, the Twin State Champs, by 25-16.

The Crew

Because of the shortness of the fall season, few heard of the victory that Tech's varsity four won over Vocational's last October. But on April 20, at Wallingford, Connecticut, Tech accomplished a feat which brought to our attention the worth of the men holding positions 5, 6, 7, and 8 in our present first 8. "Coxed" by Jimmie Gove, these men of which three are "all-city" men and the other a promising '29 all-city candidate, defeated Choate's crack four and came within four minutes of tying the record for that course. For the first time in history of Choate the losers were the boys of Choate. That was in April. On June 1, the first eight will row on the Charles river at Cambridge—defending the championship of New England.

Boys' Soccer

In spite of the fact that Coach Beukema turned out his usual fine team, the jinx seemed to be upon them, for their name nearly always appeared in the losers' column. Near the end of the season, however, the team broke their string of losses with a well-earned victory over Commerce. The team followed this with the most exciting, best fought game of the season which resulted in a 4-4 tie with Central. The boys gave their best in every game, the height of good sportsmanship.

Boys' Hockey

Once more the Orange and Black hockey team has enjoyed a very successful season. The team played seven games, won five, lost one, and tied one. For the third time in as many years the Tech pucksters have walked away with the Inter-school Championship. The only outside team played was Wilbraham Academy. In this game the Tech team rode rough-shod over Wilbraham, trimming them by a 4-1 count. An excellent brand of sportsmanship and hockey was displayed throughout the season.

Track Team

In the outdoor season of 1928, Tech competed at Easthampton, Suffield, and in local meets. In these meets, Williston, taking all three places in the shot put, won over Tech and Suffield and Hartford scored sufficiently in the relays to take first place in their respective meets; however, no meet was lost by over five points and Tech's big track team sent those of Central and Commerce to defeat.

One of the chief accomplishments of the season was a new school record in pole vaulting; John Frisbie cleared the bar at eleven feet, a gain of six inches over the previous record.

Soon after the doors of school had reopened for the fall term, Tech's men of the cinder path scored the winning total of fifty-five points in the Interscholastic Meet at Northampton held in conjunction with the Three Counties Fair, and added a loving cup to their list of trophies.

Strenuous indoor practice followed until February sixteenth, when Tech was matched against Suffield at the Armory. A week later, we placed over Suffield in the sixteen hundred and twenty-four hundred yard relays averaging a reversed result of the preceding week. This meet marked the close of the track year 1928-1929 and also, we regret to say, of Mr. Parker's long period of coaching at Tech.

It is not surprising that our team's record of not losing a duel meet in seven years is coincident with the career of Mr. Parker, who has been coaching since 1921. We wish to take this means of expressing our appreciation of Mr. Parker's services as a coach who had the interest of the boys at heart and gave himself wholeheartedly to making a championship team.

Gym Team

The Tech gym team entertained many spectators this year with its assortment of rolls, somersaults, pitches, and handsprings. "Tony" DiSanti seemed in no wise hampered by his cumbersome clown suit. In addition to the stunts and antics by the clown, Alfred Davis put the finishing touches on the performances with some clever tap dancing. Before giving its final exhibition at the freshman and senior assemblies, the team entertained Freshman Night at the school, at the Olivet Community House, Leeds Memorial Hospital, and Elias Brookings School.

The team has been well organized. The captain expects to play about eight games in all. There will be a game with Commerce, Central, Wilbraham Academy, the Springfield College Freshmen and four other games. The team is in earnest this year and hope to win all their games. They are going at the game in great style and it looks as if their hopes are well founded.

The G. A. A. is a girls' organization of the Technical High School which includes most of the girls of the school. Each year the girls have an initiation party for the freshmen. The girls have a lot of fun at their bridge parties. The G. A. A. furnishes all the letters for the girls' teams including the interclass teams. This is one of the largest organizations in the school and Tech is mighty proud to have such an organization.

Our Centennial

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1928, was a red-letter day in the high school calendar, because the high school students celebrated the one-hundredth anniversary of Springfield's first high school. As there are very few cities in the country able to hold a centennial for this purpose, it is with great pride that we look back upon that occasion.

The main event of the day was a parade, one of the largest and most colorful that Springfield has ever seen. It was an event that will live forever in the memories of those who saw it.

First in the line was a picked platoon of police officers. Immediately behind the police escort came the newly organized Springfield High School Band under the leadership of Drum Major John Proctor, a Tech student. This band, outfitted with white duck trousers, white sweat shirts bearing an orange "S" on a shield of the composite colors of all the high schools, and white sailor hats, attracted the attention of everyone.

The place of honor, however, went to Central, Springfield's oldest high school. Leading the Central organization was a small group of students bearing a large placard upon which was painted the school emblem, a representation of St. Gauden's statue of the Puritan in gold on a blue background. Each class had a placard indicating the year in which it will graduate, and the various departments had illustrated posters of their work.

Tech High came next with the famous orange and black Tiger as its mascot. This Tiger, although not the official emblem of the school, depicts, as well as the torch, the spirit of the students of that organization. Following the group bearing this Tiger came the Greenfield High School Band, colorful in their uniforms of white duck trousers and royal purple coats and caps.

Directly behind the band marched Tech's twelve hundred students. There were many banners and placards from various classes and departments, but perhaps the most striking was the large black banner with the orange letters bearing the inscription "Technical High School" which could be read for hundreds of feet.

Following Tech came the students of the High School of Commerce led by one of the best trained and snappiest bands in the entire procession, the High School of Commerce Band from Worcester. Commerce, with its sixteen hundred pupils strong, had the distinction of being the largest student body in the parade. A great many of the students wore white middies emblazoned with the maroon caduceus, and white sailor hats, giving a striking appearance to that section.

Vocational, the last school in the procession, was escorted by the Holyoke High School Band. This school, composed entirely of boys, presented a very smart appearance and had some of the cleverest and most attractive posters in the parade.

The marchers passed by a reviewing stand which had been erected for the occasion in front of the City Library and from which a number of notable citizens watched. This parade ended at the Auditorium where appropriate exercises took place.

For the first time in its history the city saw its forty-five hundred high school boys and girls in one continuous, colorful line. Friday, November sixteenth, nineteen hundred and twenty eight, Springfield stood at attention as youth marched by.

Satisfied Customers of this Bank

The most desirable asset of any banking institution is service that is satisfactory to its depositors. The true test of success is reflected in a contented clientele. Out of such relationship comes the material things by which prosperity is measured.

This Company prides itself upon its satisfied customers. It is serving them faithfully, promptly and adequately.

Come in any day, meet the officers, and discuss a mutually advantageous banking connection.
